CHARGES OF REPUBLICAN FRAUDS IN THE TWENTY-SIXTH WARD.

City Counselor Marshall Informs the Re corger that the Return From Precinct 144 Is Illegal-Republican Frauds in South St. Louis - Auditor Joseph Brown Indignant-Mayor Walbridge Beleets a Secretary-Chief Harrigan Discusses Charges Against the Police.

Protest after protest served to considerably enliven the session of the Canvassing Board to-day. When the adjournment was taken at 6:80 last evening the board, consisting of Re-corder Carlisle and Justice of the Peace John R. Slevin and John F. Mielert, had finished the Fourteenth Ward. When operations resumed at 9 o'clock this licans on hand to protest against the countthe 896 votes given John the Democratic candidate for President of the Board of Assessors, in Precinct No. 20 of the Fifth Ward. The police returns from the precinct gave O'Brien 296 and Fredericks 266. The poll-books which furnish the material for the official count gave O'Brien 896, a gain of 100 votes. These ks gave all the other Democratic candi-

The returns were closely examined, and Justice Mielert, representing the Republicans, claimed that the figures from Precinct 20 had been changed in favor of the Democratic candidate. Recorder Carlisie insisted that the board could not go behind the returns as they appeared in the official poll books. The delegation that waited on the board this morning consisted of Chairman Kaibfeil and Secretary Rohlfing of the Republican City Committee; Ford Smith and Willis H. Clark, attorneys for the committee, and one of the Republican judges from the twentieth precinct. Smith served notice that the precinct returns should not be counted and threatened to mandamus Carlisle if he permitted them to be counted. Carlisle id him to do as he pleased, that he did not intend to go behind the returns that were duly signed by the judges and clerks.

fight ensued, and when it was all over, the tally sheet was gone. The three Republican judges, Ketcham, Galloway and Eichs and Deputy City Collector Fred Becker then got together and fixed up the returns in the poll-book. The Democratic judges refused to sign them, and as the Democratic clerk, I declined to do so. It was a pre-airmaged scheme to change the figures and nothing else. More wrangling followed and Recorder Carlisie said he would accept the returns signed by the Republicans unless City Counselor Marshall decided otherwise.

Mr. Marshall came into the room just as the Twenty-eighth Ward was completed. Mr. Carlisie handed him the poll book from precinct 144 and showed him the signatures of three judges and one clerk. clerk.

asked the Counselor.

"How many judges and clerks when there?" asked the Counselor.
"Six" said Mr. Carlisle.
"Weak these signatures on here when the book was returned to your office?"
"They were not. I sent for the judges and clerks and all signed but two, who refused.""
"You can do nothing in this matter, Mr. Carlisle," said the Counselor. This was on its face an illegal return. These men were sworn to do their duty. If they falled to do so you cannot rect fly their error."
"Well, I'm going to get out of this before the next election. Whatever side is beaten will have the judges and clerks refuse to sign the returns and then I'll be in a pretty muddle."

HALEY WILL CONTEST.

Late this afternoon many friends of Andrew F. Haley, the Democratic candidate for Inspector of Weights and Measures, advised him to begin a contest. He will probably be persuaded to do so as the Democrats are anxious to have the boxes opened in the South St. Louis werds where big Republican frauds are thought to have been committed.

Eavs Wander Was the Bulldozer.

Jim Cunningham, one of the Sprinkling Inspectors of the Noonan Administration, who was a judge in Precinct No. 10 of the Third Ward on election day, to-day replied to the charges alleged against him by Judge Wander the Republican who refused to sign the returns and went off with the key to the ballot-box.

Mr. Cunningham's version of the affair is this.

Mr. Cunningham's version of the affair is this.

"To begin with I want to say that man intended to do all the buildozing in the polling-place that day. On Sunday before the election he said that the first thing he was going to do was to smash my jaw the minute I opened my head. I heard of it on Monday. Now my jaw has not been smashed for so long that I don't think I would like the feel of it, but I never said a word because I don't believe in making any rows in polling-places. Any how he didn't smash my jaw. "When the other Republican judge did not show up we elected John Owens, and if Wander says he was on our side he is wrong, because I had trouble with him all day. We were counting the first hour's ballots, and Wander was rough heading it all the time, shaking his finger in our faces and trying to start a row. He said he started around the table, tut he didn't. He picked up an armful of ballots and tried to go out of the door with them. Then Theit hit him. I separated them before they could make a fight. Then wander went out. He says he did not come back, but he was lounging around across the street all day, and came in to vote at 8 o'clock. After he told the judges not to sign the returns he went away and stayed away. The judges were not going to sign, that is the Republicans, until I told them Carlisle would not pay them unless their names were on the returns. Then they signed.

"As to Mr. Peterson, he voted in the morning and then came back and made a row because he could not vote a second time.

Officer Kroeger, too, went and tore down one of the ballots on yellow paper posted up three doors away. He had no right to do it, but he did, and they put up a Republican one in its place. I don't know anything about Hehi's case, and if he had trouble I was outside when it happened."

An attempt was made to see Tom Skidmore, who was at the polling place on election day. Skidmore had gone to Jefferson City, however, with a batch of prisoners for the penitentiary, and consequently could not be seen.

Auditor Joseph Brown Indignant. City Auditor Joseph Brown said this morning when he received positive assuran ces that Fishback, the defeated candi-date, would enter contest proceedings, threatened to mandalmus Carlisle if he permitted them to be counted. Carlisle told him to do as he pleased, that he did not intend to go behind the returns that were duly signed by the judges and clerks.

CAUSED A BIG HOWL.

The canvass continued without further interruption until shortly after noon, when the Twenty-sixth Ward was reached. The room was then crowded with candidates and Committeemen. Precinct 144 was announced by Recorder Carlisle and in a second F. A. C. McManus representing John Ball the Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates in that ward was on bis feet. "These returns should not be counted," said McManus, "as they are signed by the three Republican judges and the Republican clerk only."

Ex-Congressman William E. Kinsey, speaking for William C. Kelley, the Republican counter charges were made. Kinsey insisted that the precinct returns were correct and that they elected Kelley, the Republican of the endorsement of no point of the door," he said, "and Joseph Lee, one of our representatives followed him and hauled him back. A fight ensued, and when ft was all over, the taily sheet was gone. The three Republican judges, had run away with the ballots and books shortly after the polls closed. "He shot out of the door," he said, "and Joseph Lee, one of our representatives followed him and hauled him back. A fight ensued, and when ft was all over, the taily sheet was gone. On inquiry I find that four of them are members of the Catholic Church, and the others are Protestants. It makes no difference to me if a man is a Catholic, Protestant, Jew or free-thinker, he will receive every consideration at my hands if he is a true man. I would not have a man in my office if he was not competent, no matter what church he-might affiliate with. You can say for me that any report that I have made any pledges to remove any man on account of religious prejudices is absolutely faise."

Rohlfing's Air of Injured Innocence.

Secretary C. H. F. Rohlfing of the Republican City Committee still insists that the Democrats committed wholesale frauds at Tuesday's election, and besides reaching for Auditor Brown, to make a place for Col.

Fishback, he claims his organization will unsent Delegates-elect Sippel, Townsend, Dacey and one or two other Democrats. Mr. Rohfing, who is in charge of the whole Republican machine, has retained Ford Smith and other attorneys to investigate election irregularities and if possible work the defeated Republican candidates into office. The Republican committee wants control of the House of Delegates, and Ford Smith, who is supposed to know all about election irregularities, is expected to attain that result.

The Democratic leaders, crushed in defeat, have not been saying much since Tuesday's avalanche, but the claims of frauds made by the Filley-Walbridge-Pohlman Globe-Democrat managers have somewhat aroused them. In reply to Republican recusations they claim that Republican re-Auditor Brown, to make a place for Col. avalanche, but the claims of frauds made by the Filley-Walbridge-PohlmanGlobs-Democrat managers have somewhat aroused them. In reply to Republican accusations they claim that Republican rebeaters had everything their own way in the Ninth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Sixteenth and Eighteenth Wards, which rolled up astonishing Republican majorities. In one case it is known that a deputy in Zeigenhein's office took a gang of Republican repeaters throughout the southern part of the city, begining operations in the Seventh Ward. The Republican committee had enlisted under its banner professionals who make a specialty of such fine work, and when it comes to an investigation the Democratic leaders say they will show up frauds or the most glaring character practiced by the Republican campaigners in behalf of Walbridge and Zeigenhein.

To a Post-Disparch representative Secretary Rohlfing admitted to-day that Republicans might have committed fraud. "If they did," he said, "it was certainly nothing to what the Democrats did. We hope to have a complete investigation so that all guilty persons, Republicans as well as Democrats, Mayses.

The vote in precinct 144 stood O'Brien 412, Fredericts 418, so that its omission could not change the result materially.

FREDERICK AFFLIES FOR A MANDAMUS.
Mr. August H. Frederick, who ran against Mr. John J. O'Brien in the last election for the omice of President of the Board of Assessors, made application to-day in Judge Vallant's court for a writ of mandamus, to compel the Recorder of Voters and the two Justices of the Peace who are assisting him to make the official count, to alter a return of the Judges and clerks of Frecinct No. 20, in the Fifth ward, so as to make it read as it was originally returned by the police and published in the newspapers, instead of as it has been alleged to have been corrected since the recount commenced.

In his application for the writ against Recorder Carlisle, John R. Slevin and John F. Mielert, Mr. Frederick states that at the election held on April 4, last, the Judges and clerks was an infamous falsehood.

Thomas E. Barrett, Clerk of the House of Delegates, said that he hoped the Democrats would take up any challenge offered. "If am sure," he said, "that if the boxes were opened they would show amazing fraud in the big Republican wards. It looks very funny indeed that the Ninth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Eighteenth and other Republican wards which gave such terrific majorities for Walbridge and Zeigenhein polled their entire registration and in some cases even exceeded the vote cast at the presidential election last November. Let us have the boxes opened and a complete investigation, and the result will show that the frauds were committed by the Republicans. They are yelling "stop thief," to cover up their own fine work."

Peter Bouchein, the Republican candidate for the House of Delegates from the Thir-teenth Ward, will contest the election of Jim Murphy. Bouchein's friends claim their candidate was defeated through the ignorance of their voters with reference to preparing their ballots. They allege that their men sciatched all the tickets with the exception of the straight Republican ticket and the Independent ticket which came last on the ballot and contained only the name of the candidate for the House of Delegates. This they did not notice, it is averred, and their ballots contained the names of Bouchein on the Republican ticket and Murphy on the Independent, consequently neither the vote for Bouchein nor Murphy ballots so prepared were counted. candidate was defeated through the ignor

Judge James Gibson of Kansas City, Mo. arrived in the city this morning "to find out where all the Democrats were on the 4th," as he expressed it. "The Conamaugh flood, as he expressed it. "The Conamaugh flood, the Boston fire and the Choctaw war were bad enough, but the recent election in St. Louis was the worst disaster I ever read of, said the Kansas City politician. "I remained at my office until 11 o'clock Tuesday night to get the returns from St. Louis, and went home shortly before midnight disgusted at the outlook. I was so in hopes that St. Louis would go Democratic this spring, as Kansas City and Chicago are Democratic and I was very desirous of St. Louis following in line, but she didn't, I am sorry to say."

article in question claims that the police on duty at the different polling places openly worked in sympathy with the "push" element, and were guilty of acts of drunkenness, brutaity and gross violation of the law. He was at first disinclined to discuss the matter on the ground that the very absurdity of the charges would prove their faisty, and that he needed no defense in the eyes of an impartial public.

"I seldom pay any attention to such things," said Maj. Harrigan, "aad never contradict anything that the papers say. Of course, there is no truth in the charges made.

"Let me see the article." he continued, taking a copy of the Globe Democrat from the reporter with the intention of disposing of each individual charge made. "Why, there is not a single specific instance given to support the claims they make, not a particle of evidence to sustain them. The attack is altogether unwarranted and entirely without foundation. Why don't they give facts instead of ambiguous generalities?"

"The 'push' is no kin to me, nor have I anything in common with it. If there is any truth in the matter I would like to know it and the Police Commissioners would like to know it. If anyone has a complaint to make let them come forward with it. A fair hearing will be accorded them, and since Mayor Walbridge will be the presiding officer at each meeting of the Police Board hereafter, they are assured of justice. In advance I guarantee the discharge of any officer guilty of such conduct as that mentioned. The same order was issued to the officers for this election as has been customary in those of the past. The entire force was on duty at the polling places with a reserve at the stations, held in case of any outbreak. As in the past, details of officers were made for the various polling places, without which they cannot be properly policed.

"In regard to the statement Nathan Frank is quoted as making, you can say that Mr. Frank cannot point to one act of mine that was calculated to bring discredit on the department or on the city. He need have no fear of my retaining the good opinion of the public. I am in the habit of telling the truth. He had better try to retain this good opinion for himself and he certainly cannot do so by making false charges. Gov. Stone had nothing to do with the orders issued to the police for the elections, neither had the Police Board. I alone am responsible for them and I court the fullest investigation. Let them bring in their complaints."

In answer to the reporter's question, Chief Harrigan stated that he had not yet received a single complaint against any officer

Storms in Michigan and Illinois Cause Damage.

New York, April 7.—The following call has been issued by the executive officers of the National Federation of America.

The crisis in the home rule question now confronts us. Mr. Gladstone has faithfully redeemed his pledges. Shall we keep our? Without the continuous attendance of the Irish members in the House of Commons Mr. Gladstone cannot win.

As members of Parliament receive no salary, the great majority of the Irish members are not in a financial condition to give this necessary attention. We must meet this difficulty or the cause is lost. Through its magnificent meeting at the Academy of Music, New York has already spoken. It now remains for you, friends of Ireland, to respond.

To make this a success every city, town and hamlet should organize at once.

London, April 7.—Commenting on the Lancet report on the foul condition of Chicago water, the Standard of this morning says: It would have been well before seeking to dazzle the world if the city of Chicago had attended to the humble duty of setting her own heuse in order so as to exhibit in the municipal works a fitting example of sanitary science,

THE ANSWER TO GLADSTONE. LONDON, April 7 .- Sir Michael Hicks- Beach, resident of the Board of Trade in the last salisbury Cabinet, yesterday moved the rejection of Mr. Gladstone's home rule bill. He asserted that since the bill has become known the most serious opposition has developed towards it. The north of Ireland has protests against the measure, yet the Premier disregards the protests. He denied Gladstone's assertion that the home rule bill had been before the country seven years, saying that only the vaguest assertions concerning it had been made prior to February last. While a majority of Irishmen demanded home rule, a large and determined minority opposed it. Yet if all Ireland demanded a dissolution of the union, Enland, the other party to the bargain, was unalterably antagonistic to it. He deprecated the step as likely to plunge the country into the throes of civil war. jection of Mr. Gladstone's home rule bill.

A SIDE CONVENTION.

Lack of Harmony in the National Health

Conference in New York. New York, April 7 .- It has been evident from the beginning that all was not harmon-ious among the delegates to the National Conference of State Boards of Health. The discontent culminated this morning in an Important meeting of the Sanitary Council of the Mississippi Valley.

The meeting, which was held at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, grew out of the feeling that the National Conference attempted to unite interests too various and to harmonize too many conflicting authorities, Dr. Hewitt unite interests too various and to harmonize too many conflicting authorities, Dr. Hewitt stated at yesterday's meeting that the generalities and platitudes that only could result from attempting to cover the country and Canada was not what was wanted in the face of the gravity of the situation. The result was that a meeting of the Santtary Committee of the Mississippi Valley was called. The territory embraced within the jurisdiction of the council includes fifteen States and takes in the country between Minnesota and Louisiana on the north and south and lowa and Eastern Pennsylvania, east and west. Twelve of the fifteen representatives attended the meeting, the other three States being represented by proxies. Resolutions were passed of a much more definite and sweeping character than those adopted by the conference of State boards. The first of these resolutions grows out of the recent report of the recrudescence of cholers in Russia and requests that the surgeon general of the marine hospital service make a thorough investigation of the matter, particularly in Russia, and if the facts seem to justify it, that the case be laid before the authorities in Washington and the President be asked to prohibit immigration either in whole or in part, under see. 7 of the new quarantine laws. Another resolution calls upon the marine hospital service to institute a system of sanitary inspection of trade and traffic in the States represented in the council, this inspection to be kept up from year to year during such a period as may be found necessary. Still another resolution calls on the Marine Hospital service to institute a system of sunding revice to institute a syst

The air was full of rumors to-day of calcuses to be held and aiready over and deals which the contending factions are try

The reported caucus of fourteen Republicans and four Democrats was denied by all who were said to have been there. W. H. O'Brien, the Democrat whose business partner, A. E. Albright, a Republican, has been elected, denied the story that he, in connection with Dacey, Suilivan and Haggerty, had made a deal to go into a combine with the Republicans on condition that he be made Speaker. He said the whole thing was an infamous fabrication. E. S. Pike of the Twenty-eighth Ward claims that he can prove an ailluing the most convincing character, and declares he is in no deals whatever.

Maj. Comfort, who has been doing all of the Walbridge fine work, could not be found to-day. He was not at his accustomed haunts, Haggerty was not visible and all of the alleged caucus members gave the Ulty Hall a wide berth.

John Sullivan, Robert Norcum and who were with Merrili at who were with Merrill at the time, were taken before Justice of the Peace J. B. Caffrey, at Webster, to-day for preliminary examination. Prosecuting Attorney R. Lee Mudd moved for a continuance on the ground that Rittenhouse, his principal witness, was still unable to attend. He is still in a precarious condition, although there is now some hope of his recovery. Zack J. Mitchell, who appeared for Merrill, made no opposition to the motion. Roland Johnson of St. Louis moved for a reduction of bonds in the case of Sullivan, the only defendant who has been in jail since just after the shooting. While the court was considering this proposition the defense announced that all four of the prisoners had determined to waive examination. Justice Caffrey then held them to await the action of the Grand-jury, which meets on the 8th of next month. He set the bail in all the cases at $2,000.

Rittenhouse's case is considered most re-at $2,500.

Rittenhouse's case is considered most remarkable by the physicians. The bullet pierced his intestines five times and afteen hours afterward in parotomy was performed. Since then he has been slowly improving. Merrill, Norcum and Pieck gave new bonds. Sullivan had not succeeded in getting ball up to noon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—For some days cablegrams from Panama have noted the presence there of ex-Dictator Don Nicholas Pierola of the Peruvian Republic. The purpose of Pierola's visit to Panama is variously explained, but the general view is that his coming from Paris bodes no good to Peru. The Peruvian Consul at Panama is said to be closely watching the movements of Pierola, who is living in state at the Grand Hotel. ho is living in state at the Grand Hotel.

Minister to this country is Senor Don I Solar. An attache of the Legation as asked by your correspondent as to the urpose of Pierola in leaving Paris and lacing himself in close connection with his dends in Peru. This gentleman said that kept closely informed of the ille's movements and communications. It is thought it very probable that Plerola oked for a renewal of the conflict between ru and Chill, which closed in 1882 by the ender of two Peruvian provinces, Arica Tarca, to Chili. By the terms of the sfer of this territory to Chili Peru was ted the privilege of redeeming them on payment of $10,000,000. The time specihich Peru may redeem these procos expires in October next. The people oru are clamoring for the recovery of the territory, and President Bermudez is comply with their wishes. nt the prospect of doing so while

It is probable, in view of this situation, the thinks, that either a revolt against e Peruvian Government will occur be-een now and October or Bermudes may be aded into demanding an extension of the riod of redemption from Chili, which will certainly refused, and a conflict be pretated between the two republics. To would be an opening for the daring d ambitious Pierola. Notwithstanding spast the exile is still looked upon as the leader of the democracy, and is very popular with the masses, so much so, in fact, that the lower classes almost idolize him. During Pierola deciared himself dictator, and he contracted for large financial loans with government acknowledged and legit

European capitalists. While in power his government acknowledged and legitimized the loans. Among the money lenders was the house of Dryfoos of Paris, France, which advanced £8,500,000 to Pierola's Government. The money was either spent legitimately or squandered and when the succeeding administration came into power, after the close of the war, the treasury was empty. Pierola was a candidate for the office of Fresident and was defeated. His enemies alleged that he spent the public funds to conduct his campaign.

After Pierola had gone out of power the Peruvian Congress annulled and repudiated the loan made by Dryfoos. Subsequently Pierola was banished from Peru and went to Paris and there made arrangements with Dryfoos to assist in collecting the load.

Pierola is young, educated, popular with the lower classes, aggressive and ambitious to be returned to power. He is noted for bravery and daring. In 1877 he stole the Peruvian man-oi-war Wasco in Callac and went to sea. The Government at once declared Pierola to be a pirate and a rebel. The Wasco was an ironclad ram turret of the second class. Pierola started south, and the British men-of-war shah and Amythist engaged him in battle. Every vestige of the vessel above the water line was shot or blown to pieces, and the Wasco surrendered back to the Peruvian Government at Iquiqui, Pierola escaped and the charges against him were never the water line was shot or blown to pieces, and the Wasco surrendered back to the Peruvian Government at Iquiqui, Pierola escaped and the charges against him were never prosecuted. The Wasco was built at Larrad's shipyard, Birkenhead, Liverpool, during the American civil war for the Confederate Government. Subsequently the Peruvian Government purchased the vessel. The Wasco was a prominent vessel in the Chilean and Peruvian war. At Hugamas point in 1881 the Chillans captured her, and now she forms a part of the Chillian navy.

Pierola is of one of the best Peruvian families, and his wife is a relative of Emperor Itarbide of Mexico. It is generally stated and believed in Peru that he was counted out at the time he was a candidate for President against Bermudes.

In December of 1890 an attempt was made to restore Pierola to power, but it resulted disastrously to the adherents of the ambitious leader. He was captured and for several months imprisoned in a fortress at Lima, from which he was finally released upon his promise to leave the country and not return.

GAMBLERS AND OTHER DISREPUTABLES GO WILD OVER CARTER'S ELECTION. Now let the tiger roar and the Rocky Mountain bear lash his abreviated tail in fine frenzy.

If there is a gambler, bookmaker, owner of a disreputable joint or confidence man in the city to-day who did not get riotously drank over the result last night, the purlieus of South Clark street and the levee have not been honored with his presence of late. The resorts on Clark and State streets were thronged with a howling, Joy-frenzied mob from the time the polis closed till early morn-ing.

thronged with a howling, joy-frenzied mob from the time the polis closed till early morning.

Caste (mark the noun) among the gamblers was thrown to the dogs for the nonce. The meek and lowly pluggers, the oleaginous steerer, the evasive capper, the more ostentations dealer, and the hombastic owner of 'the roll' commingled in true democratic fashion, drank over the same bar, interchanged congratulations, talked of the harvest to be garnered, and then, in a wild, hideous orgie, made the world acquainted with the fact that the gang triumphed and all was well. The down-town thoroughfares were fairly well packed with an eager, jostling crowd, and the fronts of the newspaper offices besieged for the latest bulletins. Five offices offices besieged for the latest bulletins. Five offices besieged for the latest bulletins. Five offices and prevent of the street, where the major portion of the gang hang out, was afloat with red-top wine and red-eye whisky, if varnell's hirded men broke the seal of one bottle, they cracked the necks of a thousand. Chapin & Gore's place on Monroe street, where Joe Uliman, Jerry Daly, Abe Levy, and that class of ace-high pencilers hang out, was packed and general jubilation reigned. Any one calling for beer was frowned down upon and reminded of the fact that the German beverage was a rather poor one to wash down such a victory with hear it." One enthusiastic bookie started the refrain:

Carter, Carter,
Two years mere of Carter;
In he goes—out Hemp goes,
Samay, you should a been smarter.

This was taken up, passed along the line and soon the idlocy pealed forth from a thousand throats. It permeated the liquor laden atmosphere of the down-town resorts, migrated to the levee, percolated down to the "catacombs," and by midnight was on every tongue.

Whether in the gilt-edged den of a Hankins, or the low-ceiled joint of a Van Praag, from the murky confines of the Market street terrors to the blass nook of the Wabsah avenue habitue, along the cheap groggeries of West Madison street and in the partitioned retreats of Haisted, every male and not a few females joined in the gladsome strains. It was a sickening spectacle, this gloating over the downfail of a city's honor and integrity. All agreed that the defeat of Allerton was tantamount to open gambling, to vice run riot, to plunder and dishonor.

The gamblers and booksakers are all highly elated over the result.

"We have been eating snowballs long enough," said Louis Cochen; "now we won't use the stuff again except to frappe our wine with."

use the stuff again except to frappe our wine with."

The Harrison enthusiasts gave expression to their overtaxed exuberance by building a huge bonfire in front of the Times building, All the barrels and garbage boxes from the alleys and streets for blocks around were carried to the pyre, and thousands of yelling people pranced about the fire like Apaches at a sun dance.

The flames reached high in the air, and the crowd howled with delight when an effort was made to burn the Allerton banner, which hung across the street.

When it was found impossible to destroy it by fire the guy-ropes were seized and the banner was torn from its fastenings. No sooner had it fallen to the street than a thousand hands grasped it, and in a twinkling the piece was torn into shreds.

ZIEGENHEIN WILL FIGHT. A Fund to Be Faised to Test the Legality

Henry Zeigenhein and his friends are now getting up a fund to engage a lawyer to knock out the Excise Commissioner bill. Just how they are going about it has not been devulged as yet, but they are collecting the necessary sinews of war before venturing on a declaration of how they propose to proceed.

The Zeigenhein element fears that the Governor will appoint Justice McCaffrey to the position and in that event it will certainly be war to the hilt with them. It is also rumored that Harry Guinzberg has followed the Governor to Washington in hope of getting the place either for himself or McCaffery.

be given Friday evening.

Herr Seidi enjoys the distinction of having been Wagner's appointed conductor, and is recognized as the best interpreter of the great composer's works at the present day. In his youth he was chosen as the musical secretary of Wagner, and his close association with the master during the years in which he occupied this position, has eminently fitted him for an interpreter—especially when the playing of Wagner is concerned. Many people have had an opportunity of judging of his genius in this line and of the excellence of his organization and when he appears here the music-loving public will no doubt show their appreciation in the instance of the coming engagement. Herr Seidi has received the greatest praise from the critics of bondon and New York. Most of the music contained in the programme is to be performed for the first time in this city. Equally in importance to Herr Seidi and his orchestra is the vocal part of the organization.

* SHADES OF CUSHING! The Feminine Way of Conducting a Public

Meeting. It was a typical meeting, that of the Woman's League for the Promotion of the Use of Linen. Collars Among Immigrants. It was held on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, the programme said. At 11:15 the worthy, but antiquated charter member for twenty-five years arrived. Then came two blushing to the control of the Use of Lines and the Use of Lines and the Use of Lines and the Control of the Use of Lines and the Use of Lines and the Use of Lines and the Control of the Use of Lines and Lines a jears arrived. Then came two busing initiates whose first meeting this was to be and who were tremulous with awe. Next the President arrived, and five minutes afterwards three women, who were to read "papers," came in and seated themselves in obscure corners, where they could con their gracefully rounded sentences in whispers aughter, but did not settle into decorous shence. The members of the committee that had arranged this particular meeting conferred excitedly together to see in just how many points the before and after programme would differ. Finally the President mounted the platform and walked hesitatingly towards the table of honor, and for a brief moment it looked as though the meeting might begin. But it was a false alarm.

Each member of the committee had her own particular injunction to issue to the unfortunate figure-head, and they whispered with her for several minutes. Then the charter member lost her temper and addressed the chair in tones of commingled wrath and sarcasm. "Hadn't the meeting better adjourn at once," she wanted to know. "Then the ladies could exchange confidences with more ease." After which the President blushingly called the meeting to order by rapping on a table with the knob of her hatpin and saying: "Ladies, we are a little late." That was while the city bells were striking out the hour of noon.

inte." That was while the city bells were striking out the hour of noon.

The various papers on substituting celluloid and paper for linen, the striped collar as a civilizing influence upon the immigrant and the use of the bone collar-button were doubtless excellent. They were read is so low a tone, however, by their modest and unassuming writers that very little was audible. The part which was heard in each instance related, curiously enough, to Woman and her influence. Whether as the patient laundress of linen collars, the angel who smooths out her lord's ruffled temper when the studs are lost or the beautiful object whose charms rival those of striped neckgear was not plain, because the connecting links were lost. But woman and her influence were dwelt upon with rare rhetorical embellishment and spoken of in clear and resounding tones. And the entire league applauded each such allusion.

Each paper was followed by a five minutes' discussion. Four of these five minutes were spent in pleadings by the President that the members should say something. During the last minute seven or eight laddes were on their feet at once, not demanding recognition of the chair, but freely stating their opinions without recognition.

FASHION NOTES.

The smaller they are the smarter the appearance, and they are worn far back on the head, resting on the inevitable penny bun coil. This headgear naturaly results in the display of a good deal of front hair, over which a veil requires judicious arrangment. It should either be secured on a draw string, running the entire width or the immediate center should be gathered together and rastened with a small brooch or fancy pin.

Rather late in the season we are presented with a new fur, cailed "smoked seal." It is so remarkably pretty and effective particularly in conjunction with artistic colorings such as hussar bine, willow green and old rose, that one almost regrets being obliged to roveal its real nature, if it were not that the ingenuity in turning ordinary moleskin into such an attractive decoration is a fact worth mention. "Smoked seal" is worn on jackets, cloaks and gowns, and we shall wear it through the spring, for it is not only unique but exceedingly becoming. Rather late in the season we are presented members of the Christian Church out the United States, but especially of that faith in St. Louis are devot ing all their efforts to the erection of the Christian Orphans' Home, located on Aubert avenue one square east of King's Aubert avenue one square east of King's highway. The foundation is almost completed and the corner-stone will be laid before the end of this month. The home is attracting especial attention among Christians at present because last Sunday special collections were taken up throughout the country for the home and the coming week will witness in St. Louis entertainments given by church societies for the purpose of furnishing the rooms of the house. Next Thursday evening Blind Boon, upon whom has fallen the mantle of Blind Tom, will give a concert at Central Christian Church, Finney avenue near Grand avenue, and the next evening he will give aniexhibition of his musical powers at the First Christian Church, Locust street near Compton avenue. Both entertainments will be given under the auspices of the Young People's societies of the respective churches and will be for the benefit of the home. The home when completed, will be forty-three fest wide and ninety-six feet long and three stories high. It will be a substantial structure of brick and stone, and the internal arrangements are planned with a view to economy, convenience and comfort. For several years there has existed in St. Louis a home for destitute orphan children under the management of the ladies of the Christian Church. During this time an aggregate of nearly one hundred houseless and home less little ones, whose parents were dead, have been cared for and provided with the comforts of a home and christian training and instruction. All this was accomplished in small, inconvenient rented quarters, unsuited for the purpose and inadequate to the demands. In their new home the orphans will be well cared for.

West Pres-byterian Church is located near Hamilton and Maple avenues, and additions to the membership roll are being made so fast that the present building will soon be unable to accommodate members and their families. A new church building having a seating capacity for 800 persons will be erected next to the present edifice, which will be used for Sunday-school and auxiliary purposes. No plans or specific arrangements have as yet been made for the proposed improvements. West Church was founded four years ago by Rev. Dr. J. W. . Jewish Passover Ended. The Jews closed their Passover week to-day with services in all the temples. Only the first and last days of the week were days of sanctification, and the religious exercises of last saturday began Friday evening at sundown, although saturday was the first day of the Passover. The reason for this is the Jewish custom to count festival days as beginning at sunset on the previous syening. The proverbial Passover supper, the feast of which Christ partook on the night before his apprehension, was faithfully eaten by all true Israelites. A complete set of dishes, never used but for the meals of Passover week, was brought forth and the unleavened bread which Christ broke and then save to his apostles to eat, thereby instituting, according th Christian belief, the communion service, was partaken of. During all this week Passover dishes were on every Jewish table and unleavened bread was eaten to the exclusion of the yeasty preparations which the baker dispenses to those who are in need of the staff of life. tification, and the religious exercises of

J. J. Lawrence, A. M., M. D., Proprietor "Medical Brief," Was born in Edgecombe County, N. C., Jan. 28, 1836. He is of Revolutionary ancestry on both the paternal and maternal sides; his great grandfather was a captain in Washington's army, and was killed in battle, in and medical education, Dr. Lawrence was married to Josephine, daughter of Col. B.F.

Edwards of North Carolina. Dr. and Mrs.
Lawrence have only two children—Mr.
Frank Lawrence and Mrs. Henry A. Siegrist of this city.

The Doctor was a Captain in the Confederate Army during the war between the States. He practiced medicine a short time after the close of the war, and then moved to St. Louis. In 1878 he commenced the publication of the Medical Brief, which he still publishes, and which has now the largest circulation of any medical publication in the world. It has an immense advertising patronage and is one of the handsomest magazines published anywhere. It is one of the very few medical publications that is conducted on sound business principles; it is not sent to subscribers any ionger than paid for, and the mailing cierk of the office informs us that it has not a single deadhead subscriber. That the Medical Brief is a financial success is proven by the fact that the mercantile agencies of Dun and Bradstreet report Dr. Lawrence as being worth about $1,000,000.

The Doctor is devoted to St. Louis, and is a great believer in its future, as is witnessed by his owning several valuable pieces of St. Louis real estate. He is a member of the "Bureau of Information," is a regular attendant, and takes great interest in advertising the great commercial advantages of St. Louis to the outside world. Dr. Lawrence is noted for his universal good humor, his optimistic views, and his practical busines ability—qualities rarely found in the same person.

ON A TOUR OF INSPECTION.

A Boston Delegation Visit St. Louis to Inspect the Merz System.

A joint committee of the City Council of Boston composed of Alderman T. W. Flood. Jacob Fattler, and Arthur L. Spring, T. F. Lyons, D. F. Berry, J. Patterson and John Merrill of the Common Council, appointed to consider Patterson and John Merrill of the Common Council, appointed to consider the question of disposing of the city offal, arrived in the city this morning, accompanied by John P. Brawley, Assistant Clerk of Committees, Charles E. Sallousy, deputy City Messenger, and W. Smith Saunderson, a representative of the Boston Record and Advertiser. The committee was appointed about two weeks ago to visit the important cities of the United States for the purpose of ascertaining how the city carbage was disposed of. The committee first visited Chicago, and inside of the World's Fair inclosure viewed the workings of the Engel system. From Chicago the committee came direct to St. Louis, where the members were met at the Southern by Mr. H. A. Fleishchmann, a representative of the merz system, who escorted the committee to the sanitary works where the Merz system is used. The Boston councilmen will leave for Cincinnati tonight, after paying their respects to acquaintances at the city Hall this afternoon. Eoston has for years disposed of its garbage in rather a singular manner. The offal from private residences is hauled to the heart of the city and sold to farmers, while that from the markets and public institutions is dumped in the sa fifteen miles out from the port. This frequently washed into shore again, and it is for this reason that some better plan is desired.

SCHAEFER TALKS.

Chats About His Arm, Billiards and

HE IS VERY SEVERE ON THE YOUNG CHAMPIUN.

Meet-The Bowen-Burke Fight Declared No Contest After 110 Rounds Had Been Fought-Turt Gossip-Sport ing News.

Jacob Schaefer, that incomparable master of the billiard cue, is about once more and is a daily visitor at his rooms in Clark street. The former champion's right arm is tied up in a big roll of bandaging, reposes in a sling from his neck and is covered by the vacant sleeve of his coat, says the Chicago Evening Post. He is es good natured as he ever was "Oh, I'll be able to play billiards again, never fear," he said to a reporter for the Evening Post Wednesday. "The bones in my wrist are knitting now, and although the arm gives me some little pain, it is now certain that it will get well—at least, so the doctors say. They tell me that I can take off the bandages in about five weeks, but that I will not be able to play billiards as well as I sed to for perhaps three months.

"Slosson will find no one to take your place, will he?" "No, I suppose he won't, I thought Ives would do it, but instead of that off he goes traveling around the country giving exhibi-tions. He made a big mistake, in my opinion, by not going in at once and filling my place in the Slosson match. It would have been a gracious thing for him to do. and he would have won the respect and ap-plause of the public by doing it. But no; he and his match on with Roberts and had to practice the English game. Now he has quit the English billiards and is giving exhibitions all over the country. That doesn't look as if he were so sure of playing Rocerts, now does it? I'll bet $100,'' added Schaefer, with a left-handed tug at his mustache, "that Ives never meets the Englishman at all. I offered to bet Ives $100 himself that he would not meet Roberts, but he wouldn't take any part of it. He is not doing the right thing at all. He doesn't want to play billiards but to use his position as champion as long as he can without working to sustain it."

"Do you believe that the billiard championship will ever be restored?"

"I can't say. Ives spoiled the whole thing in Parts by refusing to meet me. The emblem has been withdrawn by the donors and the title thrown away. This I do not think was exactly just to me. Ives has acted like a boy." Schaefer does not think much of the corner. practice the English game. Now he has quit boy.'

Schaefer does not think much of the corner game as played in Paris. He says he has never played it and will not. He does not believe it is a good thing for billiards. "Tim Murphy is a great race horse, and I am convinced that if he was my property I could make a lot of money with him," said Jerry Gaugh, the well-known trainer, who handled Kyrie Daly's son for White and Stone last season, the other day. 'He is, however, I must confess, a most uncertain performer, and liable to break a man with an unlimited roll at his command in just as short a time as he would make a fortune for another. I had him in condition last summer, when I honestly believe he could defeat any horse in the world at three-quarters of a mile. That was the day he defeated Eclipse, Oregon Eclipse and a number of other speedy sprinters at Garfield Park. On this occasion as good as 15 to 1 could be had against his chances and $101 against his showing went begging. I was positive of his ability to win, and having been called away to Cincinnati notified my assistant to make White and Stone bet all they could on him. Arthur White, who was booking that day, was convinced I was wrong and bet $1,000 on Eclipse. He, however, placed $100 on Tim and pulled out about $500 ahead. As it was he lost an opportunity to make a fortune. Murphy that day was good enough to beat anything at the distance in the country on a straight-away course. This is a pecultar fact about him. He cannot run around turns, I have tried him quarters time and again on a straight run and he would force the country on a straight run and he would make a fortune. handled Kyrie Daly's son for White and Stone fact about him. He cannot run around turns. I have tried him quarters time and again on a straight run and he would go it in :22. Then I would work him the same distance on a turn but he never could go faster than :24. If he was my property I would take him down East and send him up against the crack sprinters of that section on the straight away courses at Morris Park and Monmouth. It would take some crackers to lower his colors when he was willing and in condition to run there."

PORTER ASHE' HORSES RULED OFF.

Porter Ashe's horses were ruled off by the Tuesday by a sharp trick devised by Ton Williams. Williams is sore over the court decision awarding the mare Geraldine to decision awarding the mare Geraldine to Ashe, so he sent East, and the Board of Control forwarded to the Blood Horse Association the unpaid forfeits of Ashe, amounting to $2,000. Monday night Ashe was granted the privilege of running his horses Tuesday, but when he appeared these old claims were sprung upon him. He could not pay. This move also shows the Blood Horse Association acknowledges the authority of the Board of Control. It is feared here that the feud between Williams and Ashe may yet end in bloodshed, as Ashe is angry over his discomiture.

AT EAST ST. LOUIS. Van Zant was the only winning favorite yesterday. Second choices captured the re-maining events. The track was fast, but the finishes, with the exception of the closing one, were very tame. Winnie Davis, at 6 to s, ran unplaced in the opening scramble, which was won by Amboy, the second choice. Votins, at 3 and 4 to 1, captured the second Votins, at sand 4 to 1, captured the second race. Little Phil, who was backed down from 8 to 1 to 7 to 2, was successful to the next event. Townsend, the favorite, who was hammered down from 3 to 1 to 8 to 5, ran unplaced. Van Zant, at 2 to 1, won the handicap, and Gen. Ross, at 6 to 5 and 3 to 2, beat Acclaim, who was backed down from even money 3 to 5, by a head, in the closing dash.

Jockey Tod Sioan was driven off the track at Hawthorne Wednesday. In the fourth race he was mounted on Rookery and the judges thought he made no effort whatever to get off from the post. When he was called to the stand by Judge Pettengill for an explanation he could not give one and he was told to leave the track.

While the New York City pool rooms remain closed the Guttenburg people are happy. Manager J. C. It is true the room proprietors pay us a stipmiated sum for our entries, scratches, quotations and results, but in all candor, if they never opened their doors again it would be $1,000 clear profit every racing day for us. Increased attendance means more gate money and a greater number of books. It is estimated that every sixty persons can furnish business for a book. Accordingly, with the city rooms closed and an increased daily attendance of from 1,500 to 2,000 within our gates, there is a demand for from twenty-five to thirty additional books. Yes, I am safe in saying that this increase makes it worth $1,000 a day to us."

BASE BALL GOSSIP. Con Dailey is the latest Brooklynite to sign Perry Werdin's injured knee is gradually coming around all right. He will soon be able to play. Tom Dowd's all round playing is of an exception ally fine nature. He is very fast this season, and it he keeps up his hitting he will be very valuable in the Browns' ranks.

Manager Kiely stated this morning that he has selected the pick of the Pastimes and his own club, the St. Louis Amateurs, to down the Browns. He is after that $100 prize.

In order to encourage the local teams to get together a club that can beat the Browns President Von der Ahe offers a prize of $100 to the team of local players that can down the Browns. Wapt. A great deal of interest is being shown in the coming conflict between the Sporting News and Browns Reserves, who play at Sportsman's Park next Sunday. NEW ORLEANS, La., April 7 .- The Bowen-Burke fight was stopped in the 110th round by the referee, who declared it no contest. The purse will probably be divided. Bowen wanted to finish. Bones in both of Burke's hands are broken.

From the eighty-second to the ninety-third round the men simply walked around the ring and made few attempts at fighting. The audience kept up a constant tumult of whistling and cat calls. At the beginning of I the ninety-third round Bowen showed little life and occasionally landed his right on Burke's body. His blows, however, lacked force and at no time did Burke fear a knockout. Tho Texas lad's hands were in bad shape and practically useless for hitting. He only kept his arms moving in order to keep Bowen on the alert. In the 94th round Referee Duffy was obliged to leave the ring on account of fatigue, and President Dickson assumed charge for one round. Duffy returned at the beginning of the 95th round, and again the "walk-round" began. The succeeding tes rounds were tame affairs, and both men showed the effects of the long drawn-out contest. In the losth round Bowen fell to the floor from the force of his own blow, which met no greater resistance than the heavy air of the clubhouse. The men simply jabbed at each other until the end of the 110th round, when the audience demanded that the referee declare it a draw. After a few minutes' consultation with President Dickson, Referee Duffy declared it "no contest." Burke fight was stopped in the 110th round by the referee, who declared it no contest.

THE WALKING-MATCH. Although suffering great bodily pains as a natural consequence of the tremendous strain upon their systems, the five pedestri ans who are still in the Natatorium race entered upon the fourth day and the last half of the journey last night at 10 o'clock, each one brim full of confidence as to his ability to place the event to his credit.

Old John Hughes, the Irishman with a pure Killarney brogue and indomitable Irish pluck, ran an even 100 miles the third day of the race and lessened the gap between himself and the leaders twelve miles.

If he continues the good work into this, the fourth day, he will begin the fifth day upon even terms with Moore, the good-natured American, who now leads Cartwright by several miles. The latter dogged Moore all day yesterday, but became very much exhausted last night, when Moore obtained a good lead, which he will probaply hold to the finish. Experts upon form say that the Englishman has "shot his bolt" and look upon "Leper" Hughes as the most promising candidate to beat Moore out. It is still a long time until the race closes at 10 o'clock Sunday evening and many surprises may occur during that time. The score for the first three days beat Moore out. It is still a long time until the race closes at 10 o'clock Sunday evening and many surprises may occur during that time. The score for the first three days throws all previous St. Louis records far into the shade, and should the attendance continue good, the winner will be forced to travel searly 50 miles which would be a most phenomenal performance for such a track. Glick's feet are a most horrible sight, swollen to abnormal proportions and bilstered most painfully, but still the courageous German continues upon the track and last evening treated the assemblage to some beautiful exhibitions of heel and-toe progression at which he is an adept and which elicited great applause.

The other German, Hegelman, is very leg weary, but will make a hard flight for the lead during the balance of the week, and as he always comes strong at the fluish he will make it very interesting for the leaders.

The four leaders each covered the necessary 775 miles within three days, entitling each to a special 10 prize.

Beginning to-night and continuing each evening during the balance of the week special prizes will be given for short races which will be participated in by Bennett, Guerrero, Frank Hari, McCarthy, and the Have You Seen

They're easily helped, though; there's a remedy in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—that will build up and cure every enfeebled woman. It's the prescription of a physician; has been tested in thousands of cases, and never found wanting.

The only risk that's taken is that of the manufacturers who promise to refund the money if no benefit is experienced.

This "Brescription" reaches the origin of the trouble. Dizzipess, fainting spells, and nervous disorders, such as sleeplesness, chores or St. Vitus's dance, depend upon the irrajularities and displacements of the special structures—the "Favorite Prescription" cures by regulating and correcting these functions and organic changes. SENATOR HOAR's argument against the election of Senators by the people of the State seems to be based largely upon a misunderstanding of the changed conditions of the country since the simpler days of fifty years ago. New ideas have come to the front, which he is not able to grasp. In fact his argument is as antiquated as himself.

ASSISTANT POSTMASTER GENERAL MAX-WELL is doing what may be called the dirty work of the Administration which. under our present system of "practical politics' must be done by somebody. We cannot believe that an unprejudiced understanding, if there is such a thing, would rate his work very high, but ernment could not be allowed. He re-Vice-President Stevenson's career indicates that it pays good political profit.

THE women are making considerable progress towards suffrage. In Illinois they are in sight of the ballot box in municipal and school elections. Their further progress will depend upon the use they make of the rights which have so far been granted them. There is nothing in the experience of Wyoming and Kansas to discourage them. Still, how many women really want to vote?

THE only offices in which any beneficial effect can be expected from the fee system are those in which the fee is an incentive oduty. In the new office of Excise Comnissioner the fee is an incentive to the official not to do his duty. Gov. Stone should bear this in mind in selecting a man to fill it. He should be careful to select a citizen who is above all temptations to abuse the office for political or pecuniary gain.

MR. GLADSTONE's age did not preven him from making a great speech in favor of home rule yesterday. His masterly argument against an attempt to maintain incorporated union by force was an appeal in behalf of the fundamental principles of all good government-the consent of the governed and local self-government. It is unanswerable on logical grounds. There is nothing left for the opponents of home rule except appeals to prejudice and selfish interests.

THE Rubber Trust is composed of a large number of manufacturers organized with a capital of $50,000,000. It gets its raw material free and a duty of 30 per cent on its products. Having no competition in this country it adds the whole duty to the price in the United States but sells abroad at prices fixed by the world's competition. The proposed half holiday arrangement was merely insult added to injury, and the Pharisees certainly did not eriously believe that it would accomplish its published purpose. If the Union sticks to its resolution it will be a good illustration of what comes of bigotry and ignorance. The Sabbatarian position is absurd. It has been met by one equally absurd and the conclusion of it all will be to discredit church.

SIMPLE SIMON AND THE PIEMAN.

The condition of the Old Pretender from the defeat of its candidate despite a Republican landslide is both pitiable and ludicrous. The Post-Dispatch having shown that if, as the O. It was a combination of weak towline, misdirected malevolence and misplaced confidence. The Old Pretender was victimized by its own imbeculity and the slyness of the political coon of Beaumont street. When Boss Filley sec onded the nomination of "the Globe-Demo crat's candidate" he put up a neat little job on his ancient enemy, and it fell into the trap with the celerity of a hayseed jay. It hailed the erstwhile Old Demander as the "Old War Horse" and spouted of harmony and victory. It was easy for the Republican "push" to be convinced that the Globe-Democrat's candidate was a good etter if they could come to some sort of a man not to vote for and when the Old Pretender boomeranged him with an A. THE JUDD CASE.

The trouble over the Max Judd appoint ment brings Democratic America face to face with the moribund prejudices of theOld World. We cannot understand the hatred with which Hebrews are regarded in some of the capitals of Europe, and if we could it would make no difference in our opinions. The prejudice is irrational and absurd, unworthy of an enlightened people, and should be as far as possible contempt uously ignored by our Government.

The post of Consul-General at Vienna in purely business office. It is not, like that of Minister, spectacular and social, but one which requires a good judgment common sense and a vigilant interest in the material concerns of Americans traveling, or residing in Austria. To object to a man possessing all the necessary qualifications because of his race or religion is to ask us to violate that clause of the Constitution which forbids the application of any such test to a Federal office-holder.

When the Kiely case was under discussion Secretary Bayard wrote the Austrian Minister that the position held by his govtused to withdraw the appointment Mr. Kiely, who, however, subsequently settled the difficulty by resigning and accepting another appointment. The precedent then set by the first Cleveland administration should be followed in the Judd Happily we can get along very well without either consuls or diplomats to represent us at Vienna until we teach the governments of Europe that will not change our whole system of political ideas and set aside the most cherished rule of the Constitution in deference to a prejudice which we consider barbarous, antiquated and shameful.

SCRUTINIZE THE RETURNS.

A ballot box fraud in favor of either party or any candidate is the worst of crimes against popular self-government,

The Post-Disparch has always contended that no man, Democrat or Republican, should be permitted to hold an office while his title to it as the choice of a majority of the voters is in doubt, or while there is a strong suspicion that ballot-box stuffing, false returns or a false count secured him the certificate of election.

It should be easy with the co-operation of both parties and their candidates to clear away all suspicion in such cases, and the candidate or party that does not challenge and welcome the freest and most thorough investigation of a questioned election return, avows a willngness to be the beneficiary of an election fraud and to protect the perpetrators of

We believe there are both Democrats and Republicans in this town with "pull" enough to control the appointment of election officers in their own wards and precincts and to have any sort of election fraud committed for money, even against the candidates of their own party.

Money "talked" as loudly in the recent city election as in that of 1888 and the face of the returns affords good ground for suspecting that there is a great deal of fraud concealed in the ballot boxes and tally sheets.

Shall St. Louis Have It?. To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

At the beginning of February I was advised that the contract had been let by the International Navigation Co. of Philadelphia for the construction of the two new and the first American passenger steamships of the new American Line. It then occurred to me that it would be a matter of pride as well as a splendid advertisement of our city to have the first of these magnificent vessels named St. Louis. Accordingly I mentioned the matter to several of the members of the Autumnal Festivities Committee, who promised their support, and then suggested the matter to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and the Post-DISPATCH, both of which mentioned it. I understand that the Festivities Committee held a meeting and drafted a memorial, which has been forwarded, and I have myself secured written indorsements from a number of leading citizens, which have also been placed before the steamship owners. This, however, is not enough to bring the matter properly before the steamship directors. If the merchants and citizens really desire that this compliment be paid to our city, they should at once take an active interest in the matter. The directors of our representative mercantile bodies should meet and indorse the plan, and the prominent clubs of the city take action that the steamship people may be impressed with the fact that we would appreciate the favor. Those who have traveled abroad are aware how little is known of our city, large as it is, and it is about time that we put ourselves forward for recognition by our foreign neighbors. These new vessels are not to be of less tonnage than 10,000 each, and the owners will shortly decide upon the names to be given them. Now is our opportunity, do not let us miss it. Let our prominent citizens taxe hold of the affair and give it no rest until it is assured that the largest, fastest and most magnificent American steamship affoat is named "St. Louis."

REAL CIVIL SERVICE REFORM WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—Wast is regarded by Democrats as a very extraordinary ruling has just been adopted by the Postoffice Department. That is that fourth-class Postmasters are supposed to be appointed for a term of four years and that they are to be permitted to serve out their terms. From time immemorial fourth-class postmasters were appointed to serve at the discretion of the department. When Vice-President Stevenson was the Axman of Cleveland's administration he permitted no postmaster to serve out. his ferm if he wanted to remove him.

Representative Cadmus and several other Democratic Congressmen called upon Mr. Maxwell this morning and asked him to make some appointments in their respective districts.

Maxwell said that unless there were charges which justified him removing the present Republican incumbents he could not appoint Democrats in their places, as it was the wish of Mr. Cleveland to allow postmasters to serve four years where it was known that they were competent to discharge their duties. This new order has created a deal of dissatisfaction among the Democratic Senators and Congressmen. garded by Democrats as a very extraordinar;

Sir Charles Russell argued that this was not a case for sticking closely to legal technicalities, but one for looking into the intentions of those who signed the treaty. Both statements and counter-statements, he said, contained a series of depositions which would not be valid in England or the United States as proofs. All evidence of this under the cover of attacks on the treaty of

NOTHING HIDDEN IN CHINA. The Natives Cannot Understand What Home Privacy Means.

From the Youth's Companion.
''In China a 'private house' is unknown Anyone can go anywhere, and if there is the least provocation he will do so." So says the Rev. A. H. Smith, after many years of missionary service in that country. To shut the door is a bad sign. "What is going on within that had are not admit his fellow-townsmen?"

dare not admit his fellow-townsmen?"
people are likely to say. There are no newspapers, no objects of general and human interest to attract attention, and as men and women must be interested in something it is natural that they should be fond of neighbority gossip. From Mr. Smith's account of the matter it is piain how very little Chinese and Yankees have in common.

Every Chinese has relatives beyond all count or remembrance, his wife as many more. His married children add to the everwidening circle. By the time he is 60 years of age a man is related to hundreds upon hundreds of individuals, each of whom is entirely conscious of the relationship and does not forget or ignore it.

Not only do all the members of this army of relatives feel themselves entitled to know all the details of one's affairs, but the relatives of the relatives—a swarm branching into infinity—will perhaps do the same. If a man is rich, or a magistrate, they certainly will do it.

One cannot make 'a business trip to sell watermelons, to buy mules, to collect a debt,

There are no secrets in China. Everybody crowds in everywhere—if not in sight, then "behind the arras." Everyone reads every dispatch he can get at. He reads "private" letters in the same way.

"What!" he exclaims, "not let me see?"
No wonder the Chinese have an adage: "If you would not have it known that you do it, do not do it."

In imitation of the offending member the pastor sang these lines at the top of his powerful voice, keeping time by patting himself vigovously and knocking a resounding back-step. Amid awed silence Bro. Young handed over several dimes and nickels, explaining in a low voice that he had lost the rest. The pastor pocketed the fine and proceeded with his sermon, a vivid description of efernal firs and the personal appearance of the devil.

A DEPRESSING SIGHT.

Facific Coast.

The most depressing sight I saw in a month of recent travel on the Pacific Coast was a dead city. I will not give its name or locality, for I do not want to add to the troubles of its few remaining inhabitants. At the height of tew remaining inhabitants. At the height of its boom it had a population of 7,000; now it has a scant 2,000, and these are holding on only because they hope that a railroad will do something for the place this year or next. The town is well built on the shores of a beautiful bay, but it has not a single wagon road leading back into the country. The forests hem it in on all the landward sides. It has not a single industry that I could discover to support population, save one saw mill. The people are literally living on each other.

mill. The people are literally living on each other.

In the big hotel I sat down to an excellent dinner served by white-jacketed negro waiters, but there were only three guests besides myself. I walked about the lonesome streets and met nobody. I looked into the many stores and saw no customers. A daily paper appears rugularly and trains and boats come and go, but there is no perceptible business transacted. The fown was founded by a land company as a gigantic speculation and the company took in money enough from the sale of lots to accumulate a reserve fund from which the expenses of the hotel and newspapers are still paid. Perhaps the railroad company which is constantly invoked as a special providence will yet do something to revive the place. I hope so. In the meantime it offers a curious and striking study to Passaic, N. Meantime no arrest has been made, but the mystery of the sudden deaths of Newman's six children has not been solved. The story that is in the mouth of everyone in Passaic is no borrible that it aimost surpasses belief. Newman and his wife are Hollanders by birth, but have lived many years in this country. The man is uneducated and rough in manner, but intelligent. He is a plumber, about 57 years old and industrious. His wife, who is 50. Is a spare, excitable woman. Some of the neighbors say she is something more than eccentric. The couple live together in a small frame house in a sparsely settled portion of the city.

Of the six children of this household three have died suddenly of gastric troubles. The father claims that they inherited the disease from their mother and the doctors say that it is hereditary. Most of the children, it is allegad, had small policles on their lives in the Metropolitan 'Insurance' co. of New York.

Last summer one of the two remaining children, a bright girl in her lith year, came home from school vomiting and wretchedly ill. A doctor was called in and prescribed for gastric-enteritis, but the little maid drooped and died with remackable suddenness. It was said at the time that she had been poisoned by eating some sort of berries, and as there was plenty of sumach growing beside the path the children took between their home and school, it was believed that she had eaten some of the piosonous variety.

Alltile later the mother was taken sick in almost precisely the same way. Strange to say, her tutsband had shortly before taken out an industrial insurance policy on her life. Dr. J. F. Hadley of Passaic avenue was called in and found the woman in a frantic state.

say, her Jusband had shortly before taken out an industrial insurance policy on her life. Dr. J. F. Hadley of Passaic avenue was cailed in and found the woman in a frantic state.

"For God's sake, doctor, don't let him kill me! Don't let me die!" she implored him.

"My dear madam, it is nothing; you will not die. You talk nonsense," he said. But he could not reassure her. She said that her rusband was bound to kill her. She talked so incederently that the doctor thought she was not in her right mind.

The woman got well in spite of her fears. But she told many of her neighbors that she was afraid of her life. Her husband was bound to poison her, she said. He had even threatened to do so. She never eat a mouthful when he was at table until she had seen him taste of the dish before her.

Little Wille on Thursday of last week began crying with pain at school and was so ill that his teacher sent him home. On the way he vomited copiously, and seemed to suffer much. Late is the afternoon Dr. Hadley was called in. He found himtlying on sthe bed. Besides the above symptoms of gastric infammation, there was nothing to excite alarm. The doctor prescribed a simple etomach sedative of bismuth and pepsin, and assured the trembling mother that there was no cause for apprehension.

Early next morning Newman stopped at the doctor's house and asked him to call arain. He said the boy was very low, which was surprising information, and added that he was afraid the boy was very low, which was surprising information, and added that he was afraid the boy was returned the trambiling mother that there was no cause for apprehension.

Early next morning Newman stopped at the doctor was dumbfounded at the suddenness of the death. However, the case seemed simple enough, and he wrote a death certificate according to the known facts.

Mrs. Newman renewed her charges against her husband. She expressed the belief that he had poisoned Willie to death in order to get the insurance money.

There was so much gossip about the matter that the docto

A Texas Congressman and a Planter Want to Exchange Shots.

GASVESTON, Tex., April 7.-Congressman J. C. Hutcheson, who represents the First Texas District and W. O. Ellis, a wealthy sugar planter and ex-banker, were the centrai figures in a street difficulty at Houston yesterday afternoon. Congressman Hutcheson stepped up to Ellis, who was standing talking to two men and, tapping him on the shoulder, presented a pistol, with the re-mark, "I understand you are looking for mark. "I understand you are sooning for me."

Eills drew back and bystanders prevented Hutcheson from firing. Eills withdrew to a neighboring doorway, but immediately stepped out again with a drawn pistol and attempted to shoot, but the crowd around stopped him. Both men were arrested and put under bond, but those who knew them believe that the affair is not over and that there will be serious trouble yet.

The United States School Furniture Co.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 7 .- The committee appointed by the State Senate to investigate the school furniture and school book trusts made its report to-day. The report arraigned the United States School Furniture Co. in the severest terms and advised that legal steps be taken to stop the trust. It stated that the trust had practical control of the entire output of the school furniture and that it had managed its affairs so as to annihilate all competition in that branch of the trade and advanced the prices of school surniture.

As to the American School Book Co., it was not a trust: It did not attempt to do away with competition, but rather reduced the prices of school books.

Action on the report was postponed until a week from next Wednesday, when it will come up as a special order.

The Leader of the Chicago W. C. T. U. Re-elected in Spite of Charges CHICAGO, Ill., April 7 .- Mrs. Matilda B. Carse, leader of the W. C. T. U. of this city, enlivened the annual meeting of the organization yesterday by running a newspaper man out of the hall. The affairs of the W. C. T. U. have not been running very smoothly of late, and the daliles had much to say on the subject. This angered Mrs. Carse, as her financial management of the society was ner inancial management of the society was severely criticised. She attended the meeting yesterday and created a scene by ordering dir. Florence McCarthy, a reporter on a morning paper, to leave the hall. For a time it looked as though she would assault him. Mrs. Carse was re-elected and with tears in her eyes she denied the unkind things that had been said about her.

Annual Meeting of the Missouri Woman's The Missouri branch of the Woman's Branch Missions of the interior convened in annual session at the First Congregational Church this morning. There was a large attendance of ladies interested in the foreign missionary work of the Congregational Church

Church.

The President of the Missouri State Branch, Mrs. A. P. Forbes, presided, assisted by Vice-Presidents Mmes. J. H. Williams, S. B. Kellogg and J. H. George. Miss Alice Litton was at the secretary's desk.

The meeting was opened by devotions lead by Mrs. A. B. Allen of Hannibal, Mo.

Miss Litton read her annual report, incorporated in which was an interesting review of the work done by the Missouri Branch.

Branch.
The report of Mrs. J. H. Drew, the Treas-ner, was very gratifying. She delivered as neer-sting address upon the manner of col-ecting funds and announced that $4,000 had an annached during the year. Interesting address upon the manner of collecting funds and announced that $4.600 had been subscribed during the year.

Mrs. L. D. Wishard read a paper upon the work of the Y. M. C. A. among the foreign missions, and spoke of a trip which she had taken through foreign countries with her nusband in the interest of that association. The feature of the meeting this morning was an entertaining address by Miss Mary Porter, the first missionary sent by the board of the missions are sent by the board of the missions are not foreign countries with her work done by the native converts.

The meeting adjourned at 13 o'clock to meet again this afternoon. This afternoon's programme was as follows: Devotions, its. J. A. Massa; address. Mrs. L. D. MISSING GIRL FOUND.

The Sequel to the Disappearance of Miss PADUCAH, Ky., April 7 .- Miss Sallie Moore, who disappeared mysteriously from New York several months ago, giving the news-paper men, her relatives and others much trouble to locate her, is now in Lancaster, Pa. Yesterday she filed suit at her old home in Marion, Ky., against L. W. Cruce, a young farmer of Crittenden County, for $10,000 dam-ages for betrayal and desertion. Cruce says nothing about the suit, but it is given out nothing about the suit, but it is given out that he denies the charges. Miss Moore has become a mother since she left New York. Miss Moore suddenly disappeared from the residence of her sister in New York on the afternoon of Jan. 16. She had been in New York three months with her sister, Mrs. W. W. Cornell.

She left her sister's house, as she stated, to seek employment and did not return. The police ware called upon to look her up. The story of her disappearance got into the newspapers and a reward was offered for information of her whereabouts. A few days after she left her sister's home, her brotherin law received an unsigned note stating that Miss Sailie was in the hands of two men, who held her for ransom, and that she would be killed by her captors if the sum of $5,000 was not paid for her return. But this proved to be the work of blackmailers, for within a few days after the receipt of the note Miss Moore was heard of in Philadelphia, living as a domestic in the house of Dr. Jamison. As soon, however, as the girl learned that her identity was discovered she secretly left the Jamisons family, and for a month she was again lost to her friends. Two weeks ago her friends in Kentucky received a letter from her at Lancaster, Fa. The story she told to the Jamisons in Philadelphia, who discovered her condition, was that she had been secretly married in Kentucky and deserted by her husband.

CHICAGO WATER.

Its Horrible Condition Set Forth by Un-prejudiced Commissioners. LONDON, April 7.—The report of the com-missioners sent out by the Lancet, the leading medical journal of Great Britain, to make an examination regarding the sanitary condi-tion of Chicago, with a view to the better information of British visitors to that city tion of Chicago, with a view to the better information of British visitors to that city during the World's Fair, states that all the samples of Chicago River water examined showed an appalling pollution by animal refuse indiscriminately mixed with common sewage. The pollution begins at the mouth of the Chicago River, and increases until the maximum is reached in the vicinity of the steck yards, near the southern branch of the pumping station, where the flithy conditions defied description. The temperature of the Chicago River water varies from 32 deg. Fahrenheit at the southern part of 46 deg, at the stock yards, while the temperature of the air did not exceed 24 deg. It waswafe, therefore, to conclude that the condition of the Chicago River in summer would be more abominable.

The analysis of the water of Lake Michigan failed to furnish any distinct evidence of serious pollution. In dealing with the domestic supply the report emphasizes that its desirable to filter lake water for drinking, since not a single sample of the ordinary supply is entirely free from sediment, which in the majority of instances consisted of vegetable debris.

Numerous organisms, chiefly of the kind peculiar to pond water, were found. In sample No. 33, representing the water supplied to the North Side residents, dead water fleas were found floating. Indeed, as regards suspended matter or deposit, the samples taken in the mains were quite unsatisfactory, as compared with the sample from the lake.

For instance the lake samples exhibited a remarkable freedom from brown colowing gards suspended matter or deposit, the samples taken in the mains were quite unsatisfactory, as compared with the samples from the lake.

For instance the lake samples exhibited a remarkable freedom from brown colowing compared with those from the mains the excess of brown colowing; the water from the mains being probably due to contact with sediment which had, not improbably, accumilated from time to time in the mains. After proper and effective filtration, however, the report says, there was nothing to suggest that the water was not well suited for domestic purposes, and the residents of Chicago were evidently aware of the desirability of filtration.

Two samples have been through Pasteur filters; nevertheless these were bad, if not worse than the ordinary unnitered supply. The explanation of the anomaly was not far to seek. It was customary apparently at all seasons of the year to float pleces of ice in the drinking water, but no discretion was exercised in the choice of pure ice. The examinations made distinctly indicate impure ice melted in the water after filteration. There is no doubt that the good effected by the Pasteur filteration is nullified by inserting ice of such quality.

It may be said truly, continues the report, that the water supplied from Lake Michigan is good throughout, and provided it is effectively filtered and boiled there would be nothemical objection to its use. Indeel, it compares very favorably with that supplied London. As regards the sources of the water supplied from Waukesha to Washington Heights they are less well adapted for ordinary washing and manufacturing purposes, but in respect to organic purity they are equal and probably far superior to the ordinary washing and manufacturing purposes, but in respect to organic purity they are equal and probably far superior to the ordinary supply. In view, continues the report, of the excellent character of Lake Michigan water, it is suicidal to run the risk now being run of seriously poliuting so unlimited a pure supply by an ugly du cludes: "Our examination has led, on the whole, to a reassuring result, but we cannot feel free from serious misgiving until reassured on the question of contamination by ice. The statistics in our possession show that Chicago suffered from typhoid fever nearly eight times as much as London in 1891. To the people of Chicago we appeal to provide a water supply free from this reproach."

THE GATE CITY BANK.

Its Funds Will Go Into Circulation and the Concern Will Liquidate. ATLANTA, Ga., April 7 .- The money locked up in the vaults of the Gate City Bank will be turned back into circulation to-day. Mr. Stone, examiner in charge, was directed by the Comptroller of Currency yesterday to transfer the funds from the bank to the Atlanta National Bank. The work of count-Atlanta National Bank. The work of counting and removing the fund will begin this morning. This is not an unusual proceeding, but to meet a general desire to have the money unlocked, the Comptroller took this step. The depositors do not get their money yet, but $200, 000 more in actual cash is now in the Gate City Bank and will in another national bank which can loan it out, relieve financial stringency. It has been decided also to liquidate. The bank will not go into the hands of a receiver if the present plan can be carried out and there is every reason to believe that it can be. Bank Examiner Stone thinks the bank will soon have enough money in hand to open its doors and pay all depositors as fast as they come up. He will not open the bank until there is a dollar on hand for every dollar that is owed.

The bank has now on hand about $20,000 in cash and cash assets. When the bank closed on the night of Feb. 22, it had in the vaults about $36,000 in cash and $4,000 in checks. Mr. Stone says he thinks the inconvenience caused by locking up the bank's money has been coverestimated but he deemed it the wise thing to have a transfer made of the money to another bank, where it will be available for regular banking purposes, and so recommended to the Comptroller.

Since the bank closed maturing paper has been collected very promptly, considering that it is a suspended bank. Some debtors have not been prompt, but they are good and the money will be obtained. Mr. Stone states that paper which the Gate City Bank was carrying was-of high class as a rule and there will be very little of it that cannot be collected. Every depositor will get par or very near for their stock. Reorganization in the sense of reopening the bank has been given up. ing and removing the fund will begin thi

HITTING AT BOME.

Busyalo, N. Y., April 7.—Rev. William Stevens Perry, Bishop of Iowa, last night preached the first of a series of Columbian sermons at St. Paul's Church. He said he owed bothing to Columbus, Spain or Rome for the discovery belonged to John Cabot, who sailed, under the patronage of King Henry VII. and that the discovery was made in defiance of Pope Alexander VII. The sermon was strictly anti-Columbian and anti-Romish and created considerable excitement.

LET THE MATTER ALONE.
SEDALIA, Mo., April 7.—The session of the Kansas City Presbytery was closed last night. When the subject of the revision of the confession of faith came up it elicited but little discussion, as the Presbytery seemed rather inclined to let the matter alone. It was carried by a close vote that nothing be done with the overture sent down by the General Assembly.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 7.—Through the Acting Secretary of the Archbishop, W. D. Kennedy, Secretary of the Archbishop, W. D. Kennedy, Inspector-General of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, has learned that 'a permanent committee of Bishops has been appointed by the last Council of Baltimore to study the Knights of Pythias and similar societies.' The letter further states that the Knights of Pythias are not under the ban of the Roman Catholic Church, and that if those who belong to the order should present themselves for the reception of the sacraments, the judgment as to admission would rest with the confessor.

AN EVANGELISTIC CONFERENCE.

FREEFORT, Ill., April 7.—The Illinois Evangelical Association, supporters of Bishop Dubs, who was removed by another faction on charges of immorality, convened here yesterday. The announcement was made that there was no bishop present and the conference was organized according to the discipline. The permanent chairman selected was Rev. W. H. Fonke of Chicago. Rev. Stamm was elected the German and Rev. E. K. Yeakel the English secretary. Resolutions were read and adopted sustaining the body of the Evangelical Association of North America, which met at Philadelphia, Oct. 1, 1891, and repudiating the conference held in Indianapolis at the same time. The Illinois conference, which convened at Elgin last year was also condemned. A committee, composed of Rev. S. J. Schneider, H. Messner, F. Busse, S. F. Entorf, W. Caton and the following laymen: W. H. Herman, H. H. Rassweller, P. S. Schnabele, W. Lineman and J. Vogelsang, was appointed for the purpose of adjusting any and all rights of property of any of the parishes within the conference, and it was resolved to abandon all business in the name of the corporation now known as the "Illinois Conference of the Evangelical Association of North America."

Bishop Sandford of Harrisburg, Pa., made the annual address, urging his hearers to have the courage of their convictions. It was decided to hold the next State Conference at Harrington, Ill., beginning the first Tuesday in April, 1894. Rev. J. Schneider, Kev. F. Busse and J. G. Wise representing the Dubsites, are at Orgon, Ill., to-day, where the billi asking for an injunction restraining them from occupying the Salem Church was argued before Judge Cartwright.

A PROTECTIONIST WORKMAN.

Gov. McKinley Appoints a Once Well-

Known Man to Office. COLUMBUS, O., April 7 .- Gov. McKinley city members of the State Arbitration Com-mittee, provided for under a newly enacted law-Mr. Foster as a representative of the employing class and Mr. Bishop as a repre-employing class and Mr. Bishop as a representative of the laboring men.

Mr. Bishop's selection has caused a commotion among the labor unions. A delegation waited upon the Senate committee on labor matters at noon and asked that the appointment be not acted upon until they could find out who Bishop was. Though he is credited to this city, none of the labor leaders know him. It is found that while he was once a prominent leader in the Iron and Steel Workers' Union, he had not been active as a labor unionist for ten years.

He is now a commercial traveler for a firm of chemists at Norwich, N. Y. His son says his father appeared before the Ways and Means Committee a number of years ago asking on behalf of workmen higher protection on Iron and steel. He also at that time gave McKinley data from which he made his maiden speech on the tariff question.

REAL ESTATE MEWS.

Property owners in the vicinity of Twelfth and Morgan and as far west as High street have been approached within the last few days by persons wanting to secure options on their property. Some of them have given options on their property. Some of them have given options on their holdings, while the more conservative have waited to investigate what it was wanted for. Some time ago there was talk of a new location for Union Market, which now occupies a very valuable block of ground in the heart of the retail district, Broadway, between Lucas avenue and Morgan streets. The property is said to be too valuable for market purposes, and as the city does not derive sufficient revenue to pay the interest on the money value of the property, the question has been raised whether or not it would be well to sell this valuable block and locate the Union Market further west. Another question that has been raised by some of the merchants in the district is whether or not the market is a benefit to them. Some claim it is, in as much as it brings people to the district, while others claim the public come to the district to buy their goods and that the market is a secondary matter. The parties who are securing options on High street and Twelfth street, between Lucas avenue and Morgan street, are doing so without authority from the city in the belief that the location is one of the most eligible for market purposes and that the city will buy it from them. The Union Market property, according to present values, is worth not less than $700,000. As soon as the city announces that the property is for sale there will be plenty of buyors.

Queer Story Told to the Police by Robert

Rescued from a watery grave by a man who immediately afterwards stole his gold watch was the experience of Robert Ravin of 1218 Gratiot street, as told by the police this morning. Ravin yesterday had occasion to visit Howard Station, St. Louis Co., Mo., and while there accumulated quite a "jag." On his way home his progress while there accumulated quite a "jag," On his way home his progress was consequently very unsteady and while in the act of crossing the railroad bridge over the River des Peres he lost his footing and fell headforemost into the muddy stream. An unknown man witnessed his discounture from a distance, and hastening to his assistance soon landed him once more safely upon terra drma. After this service he carried his kindness to the further extent of heiping the unfortunate to wring out his wet ciothing. It was while thus philanthropically engaged that according to Revin, his rescuer appropriated his gold watch valued at $50. When he discovered his loss all thoughts of gratitude to his deliverer faded from his mind and he even goes so far as to wish that he had been left there to drown. He furnished a description of the man and would very much like to meet him again.

NEW YORK. April 7.—The Rev. Rodman of this city, while filling by invitation the pul-pit of the Rev. Samuel Friedman, in Andover. ear Roxburgh, Pa., on Easter Sunday, was cunited with his wife. They had been parted by the Chicago fire and each believed the ead. Dr. Rodman had progress out half way through his sermon in the about half way through his sermon in the Congregational Church, when a middle-aged woman in the congregation suddenly fainted. He paid little attention to the incident, and members of the church carried the woman into the vestry. When the services were concluded Dr. Rodman was asked to step into Mrs. Friedman's private study. There from surprise and joy the minister nearly followed the example of his new-found wife in fainting. The woman had married since their separation by the great fire. Her second husband, Robert Cass, had died. Dr. Rodman had never remarried. At the time of the fire he was injured and lay a long time in the house of a friend. When he recovered all trace of his wife was gone. The husband gave up commercial life after this and entered the ministry.

The arrest was made upon complaint of Alonzo B. Haines of 618 Market street, who stated that the men stopped him and asked him to give them some money with which to get something to eat and a place to sleep. He responded, and was then invited to drink a can of beer with them in an aliey on Seventh street, between Market and Wainut streets. When the beer had been disposed of, he claims that they caught him around the neck, choked him, then threw him down and beat him. Two of them held him while the third went through his pockets and relieved him of $3.30 in cash and some letters and papers. He positively identifies the men arrested as his assailants.

read from Mr. Gilder of which the following is a part:

"It is my purpose some time during the early part of next June or early in July to collect a party of trained observers into the Arxite region on the America, to determine the present location of the north magnetic pole and make a magnetic survey of the pole containing a sea. The instruments and observers for this work will be supplied by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, but there is no fund in that bureau from which the transportation and maintenance of this party while in the field can be defrayed, so money for this purpose will have to be obtained by voluntary subscription of those who have the means and inclination to aid a work of such importance.

"The observations of a party in the vicinity of the North magnetic pole will tend to increase our knowledge of terrestrial magnetism; they will also set at rest the action of the magnetic poles of the earth, and if they are found to move, the direction and rate of motion will be definitely ascertained. As a direct practical result the laws that direct the movements of the magnetic needle will be studied to the end that the compass may be rendered a more reliable guide to the mariner. The north magnetic pole is in North America, and it is fitting that this work should be done by Americans.

"Prof. C. Schott, assistant to the Superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, is undoubtedly the leading magnetist of the day, and this work should be done at a time when his valuable services can be had in planning the scope of the survey and the training of observers. The entire expense of the expedition will be between $20,000 and $25,000, and it is desired that the latter sum shall be subscribed so that the latter sum shall be be subscribed to the training of observers.

and stated that Dr. Fitzporter, who had attended the child, refused to issue a certificate until he had been paid his fee. The child, she said, had been sick for some days past with pneumonia, but medical assistance was not summoned until Dr. Fitzporter was called last night, about an hour before the child died. She claimed that he said that death had resulted from pneumonia, and that this morning he started to issue a certificate of death from this cause. With his pen poised above the paper, she says he asked for the payment of his bill, and when she attempted to "stand him off" until this afternoon, she alleges, he refused to issue the necessary paper until he had been paid. She was advised to go back and try to effect a compromise with the physician. CAN WORK ONLY FIVE DAYS.

Sunday and Monday Fapers to Be Stopped by Pittsburg Sabbatarians. PITTSBURG, Pa., April 8.—The Pittsburg Law and Order Society, which has been for months prosecuting newsboys and news-paper-carriers and agents for Sunday labor, under an act of 1794, and which has been sus tained in the Supreme Court of the State, today tried a new trick. C. W. Houston, business manager and one of the stockholders of the Press, an afternoon daily and Sunday morning paper, was arrested and tried before an Alderman and fined 57s and costs for three violations of the law. Mr. Houston objected to the decision against him on the ground that he has never worked on Sunday in his life and that the workers on Monday morning papers do nearly all the work on the Sabbath. Mr. Yost, attorney for the Law and Order Society, informed Mr. Houston that the publishers of Monday morning papers are next to be prosecuted and that it won't be long before all of the Pittsburg newspaper workers are employed only five days in each week, unless they get out Monday papers after 12 o'clock Sunday night.

She showed no signals, which would indicate that she needed no assistance.

The Hekla was spoken on March 27, about 1,250 miles east of Sandy Hook by I a Normandie, and signaled that she had broken her shaft, had made repairs and needed no help. She was making eight knots then, but she has averaged only 3½ knots since. It is therefore likely that she either met very rough weather or broke her shaft again.

Make the Country's Leather. CHICAGO, Ill., April 7 .- Armour, Swift and orris, the great packers, are the projectors of a cluster of tanneries, with a capacity equal to the tanning of 90 per cent of the raw hides produced in this country, on 4,000 acres of land which they own at Tolleston, Ind. Rumors that such plans were talked of by the packers have been current for some time.

They have received an impetus within a week or two, with statements made by the representatives of Armour & Co. that great tanneries in the vicinity of Chicago would probably be built. heries in the vicinity of Chicago would probably be built.

A packer said yesterday: "Armour, Swift and Morris produce about 4,000,000 raw hides annually. They control 90 per cent of the entire stock. A hide works up into 65 per cent of leather, worth on an average 25 cents a pound. I cannot say how much money will be required to build tanneries. We would use up $600,000 in erecting three. The other concerns will do the same, I suppose. Adjacent to the tanneries the plan is to have leather and harnessmakers, boot and shoe manufacturers, etc. The only way to do is to bring them right here. Then the iron-makers and others will come in."

Representatives of the packers, it was stated yesterday, had been quietly securing hemiock lands in Wisconsin and Michigan for weeks.

LIFTING WEIGHTS.

Preparations for Hoisting the Fig Krupp Gun Out of the Longuiel's Hold. BALTIMORE, Md., April 7 .- Supt. King of he Maryland Steel Co. smiled yesterday for the first time in fully three weeks, when out over the water and six feet above the level of the deck a mass of steel rails weighing 130 tons was suspended by the shears which are to lift the big Krupp gun. It was the heaviest weight ever lifted in this country by the crane system, and the trial was a complete

After the test the Longulel was pulled nder the shears and the work of unloading under the shears and the work of unloading the guns and armor plates began in earnest. The 62-ton gun was the first one tackled. Only two of the four great chains were used on this one and they proved sufficient, for in just eighteen minutes from the time the lifting power was put on the gun was lowered to its bed on a combination platform car, which will take it to Chicago. The chains were made fast around it at the breech and, perfectly balanced, it was raised above the deck and swung over to the car. Next came the 43-ton gun, which was handled just as easily.

its great length. The big gun will be taken out to-day. The armor plates, or rather target plates, so far put ashore show the terribly destructive power of the Krupp gun far better than words can describe. Two of the plates are of steel 12 inches thick and weigh 35 and 40 tons respectively. One has four indentations, varying from 5 to 9 inches in depth and two ragged holes extending clear through it. The indentations were made by shots from a 45-ton gun, placed at a distance of four miles. The holes were made by shells from a Krupp rifle at two miles range. The other plate has two indentations, 3 and 5 inches in depth, made by shots from a gun six miles away.

Assaulted Detective Tracey. William Dumford is being tried in Criminal Court to-day on a charge of assault-ing Detective Thomas Tracey on Nov. 30 last. Tracey was assaulted at Twelfth and Pine streets, while trying to make an arrest, and badly beaten. Dumford and some compan-lons were charged with the assault.

Nothing is now left but the 124-ton gun and a section of armor plate 85 feet long and 114 association of the 1st Regiment, N. G. M. gave a full-dress each party at the Mercantile Club last the hardest thing to move on account of night.

Germs of Disease

like consumption germs, for instance, may be taken into the system at any time. But when the system is undermined the germs take root and grow. After a hard Winter the body needs a nourishment (not a mere tonic or medicine,) to help ride out the storms of Spring and withstand disease. Exposure to disease now means the taking of disease, unless the system is properly nourished.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

of COD-LIVER OIL, with hypophosphites of lime and soda, is a food which builds up new tissi quickly, and helps to overcome the germs of disease. It supplies what has been consumed in Winter and thus fortifies the system against sudden changes in temperature, and damp, piercing winds. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Another good sized lot, 21 sacks, of new wool was received to-day from Texas, and was sold on p. t. Also a small lot Kansas on p. t.

Indications are that the season for new wool will open early this year. Present prices are attractive to growers, and they are starting early in order to take advantage of the good market now offered. Our quotations are intended for old wool. New wool generally sells a little lower, as it is generally damp when freshly snorn, and does not work so satisfactorily in goods as older wool, which is seasoned.

From the Washington Evening Star.

The lobby was crowded to sufforation. The murmur of voices was stilled. Ine shuffling of feet over the marble floor ceased. An avenue was made through the solid mass of humanity. Some men bared their heads.

They lifted his lifeless form gentity from the floor near the entrance to the burroom. Pitying eyes fell upon that white, bloodless face set in the rigors of death. Every bone in the limp clay had been broken. His young life had been crashed out of him, yet so suddenly that he didn't know what strack him.

"What did it?" asked the man with the turtle soup complexion of the man with a stiff neck.

"He thoughtlessly said aloud: "Colonel, come in and drink," and they responded to a man."

Mrs. Minks: "There! There is another torn silk handkerchief that my husband has stuffed into the rag-bag. That is the last of the half a dozen he bought last year or the year before, and be put them all in the rag-bag himself. Now wait."

Bister: "What for?"

Mrs. Minks: "In about a week you'll hear him raving around wanting to know what has become of that half a dozen new silk handkerchiefs he bought only a few months ago."

tisement: "We have for sale a little over a box of bachelor buttons' that go through the cloth and fasten together on the same principle of a rivet in a harness tug. Among other things they are handy to fasten the perforated ends of suspenders to. Like other relics of our bachelor days, they are things of which we have more supply than demand. We conscientiously recommend them as being better than a nail on account of monopolizing less of the trousers and not drawing frost in the winter."

A Young Husband Plays Upon the Inno-

From the Waverly Nagazine.

It was nearly midnight when the young bride heard the front door softly opened, and as he came up in his stocking feet she dried her eyes and determined that the time for her eyes and determined that the time for action had at last come.

"This will never do, George," she said, with a steely glitter in her eye that sobered him on the instant. "Perhaps I wouldn't mind it so much in the years to come, but our honeymoon is barely over, and here you stay out nearly all night. Unless you promise to stop, I'll go back to my father."

"Forgive me, my dear," he replied, bracing himself for the supreme effort of his life, for he knew the crisis had come, and upon the result depended whether marriage was to be a failure or a blooming success. "I know my conduct must seem cruel to you, but that is only because you know so little of men and their ways. All my life I have been accustomed to staying out all night. I can't stop suddenly, for the dector has told me I have heart disease, and that any sudden shock was likely to kill me. That's why my dear, I must taper of gradunily."

"Forgive me, George," he sobbed, throwing herself on his breast. "I have been very seifish. I know you try to do what is the best for you. Never again will I scold you, for It would drive me crazy if I knew I was the cause of your killing yourself."

ing out of the big building, two newsbors stood waiting for the clerks. Both boys were small. One was stout, the other pale and delicate. The largar boy cried his papers in a strong bass voice, while the little fellow's voice was a shrill, piping, high lyric tenor, with a far-away tone. The boy with the bass voice turned round, and, with a look of disgust and contempt, said to his companion in the news business: "Oh, cum off; w'y don'ye git a holler on ye?"

From the Brunswick Times.

A rather singular incident occurred on the Savannab, Fiorida & Western Railway the other day. It was about forty miss from the Cattle of the Cattle of the Cattle of Catt other day. It was about forty miles from Waycross on a through train to Chattahoochee. On the track in front of the train the engineer, Mr. Du Bose, saw a sheep with a young lamb. It was too late to stop the engine, and the train passed on, leaving mutton in its wake. Arrived at Waycross the engineer descended from his angine and saw the lambalive and unhurt on the cowcatcher, It had been carried forty miles without a scratch.

From the New York Weekly.

Dealer: "Here, madam, is a horse I can recommend, sound, kind—"
Old Lady: "Oh, I don't want that sort of a horse. He holds his head high."

Dealer: "Kin?"
Old Lady: "I like a horse that holds his nose close to the ground so he can see where he's goin'."

What Tammany Will Get.

From Texas Siftings.

Teacher: "If Cleveland had a chicken ple, and had given the Mugwumps four-fifthe of it and kept the rest for himself, how much would there be left over?"

Small boy: "What Tammany Mail will get."

"How much will that be?"

"The empty plate."

To Encourage Honesty.

From the New York Weekly.

Business Man: "No use talking, what is commonly considered business integrity is as near honesty as you can expect while things are as they are."

Clergyman: "What changes would you suggest to raise the standard of honesty to a ligher moral place!"

Business Man: "Well, for one thing, we'll have to make the Poor-houses more comfortable."
